

View from St. Anne's Church Steeple, 1920. From the private postcard of Jos. B. Renaud. Looking east on Tecumseh Road. The building in the forefront was an apartment building and location of Normandie Lunch restaurant. It was demolished, making way for National Bank of Canada. The home next to it is the Roy residence and location of La Trésor De Laine, wool shop. The white building marked "G" shows the location of the Golden House hotel. This is now the site of Ticonderoga Park. The small building across from it, at the end of Tecumseh Road, is the Tecumseh Train Station.
